

Takeaway management zones: Impact, implementation and next steps

1200	Arrival, lunch, networking
Session 1: Impact (Chair = Thomas Burgoine)
1300	Welcome	Thomas Burgoine, Senior Research Associate, University of Cambridge
1310	Keynote	Michael Chang, Programme Manager for Spatial Planning and Health at the Office for Health Improvement and Disparities (OHID)
1320	Work packages in focus	Changes in the number of new takeaway food outlets associated with adoption of management zones	John Rahilly Research Fellow, UCL
		Health impacts of takeaway management zones	Ben Amies-Cull Health Modeller, University of Oxford
		Economic impacts of takeaway management zones	Daniel Derbyshire Research Fellow, University of Exeter
		How do the public and takeaway business owners respond?	Martin White Professor Population Health Research, University of Cambridge
		Young people's perspectives on takeaway management zones	Bea Savory Research Assistant, LSHTM
1420	Panel discussion	Chair Jean Adams, Professor of Dietary Public Health, University of Cambridge Panel Thomas Burgoine Oliver Mytton, Honorary Public Health Consultant, UCL Antonieta Medina-Lara, Professor Public Health Economics, University of Exeter Claire Thompson, Senior Research Fellow, University of Hertfordshire Martin White
1440	Break
Session 2: Implementation (chair = Steve Cummins)
1500	Introduction	Steve Cummins, Professor of Population Health, LSHTM
1510	The challenge of implementation	Claire Turbutt, Principal Public Health Practitioner, Cwm Taf Morgannwg Lydia Orford, Principal Public Health Practitioner, Betsi Cadwaladr
1530	Toolkit/resource guide table discussions	Jean Adams, Thomas Burgoine, Steve Cummins, Claire Thompson, Claire Turbutt & Lydia Orford
1615	Reflections and next steps	Thomas Burgoine

FUNDED BY